

Beware of Online Predators

Warning Signs

Your child or teen spends a great deal of time online.

You find pornography on the family computer.

Your child or teen receives phone calls from people you don't know or makes calls to numbers you don't recognize.

Your child or teen withdraws from family and friends or quickly turns the computer monitor off or changes the screen if an adult enters the room.

Your child or teen is using someone else's online account.

If your child receives sexually explicit images from an online correspondent or if he or she is solicited sexually, contact the local police. You can also report to www.cybertipline.com or by calling 1-800-843-5678.
